The extertainment was manally brilliant, and very much enjoyed y the addience. Professors H. Amold, J. Petersen, L. Siesbeck and others, won frequent pplause by the manner in which they equitted themselvis. On the whole, the concert was most creditable, and its repetition greeted with a larger, though not a preciative, audience than was present and is the legitimate depot for our hogs, cat-tle, produce and lumber. The Senatobia Times is a good friend of Memphis. In its last number it says: "We tear on all sides the question—are you going to the exposition? and we see daily trainstrowed with people going to the exposition; and it its right in the face of all the troubles lately beetling Memphis. Truly her powers of recuperation are beyond calculation; for this exposition is a big timin; and Memphis, whose streets were lately crowded with funeral processions and nearly desolate as to business men, is to-day the locality of one of the greatest fairs of the continent. Hurrah for Memphis, long may she wave! And let her motio still be -HEVIRESCO."

arise? Have not the employes always man fested the best disposition toward the corpany, and would they be likely to be corrolled by outside influences?

Captain Ross—The best understanding to always existed, and I do not think the enployes would or could be affected by influences extraneous to the company for who they have all, without exception, worked lot and faithfully, especially during the reception. A fact that is not forgotten by it company or any of its chief officers.

Reporter—Has the question of a reduction wages ever been broached to you by any on Captain Ross—By none but the employs and to them I have uniformly said that a 1 duction was a necessity growing out of tabrinkage in values everywhere, the gener decrease in railroad business, and the pant the effects of which are still felt througho the country.
